Twiducate est un outil inspiré par twitter et créé par des enseignants qui permet une interaction à l'écrit.

Il se présente comme une série de 'posts' auxquels les élèves peuvent réagir par un autre post ou par des commentaires.

Il est possible de « punaiser » un 'post' qui servira de consigne / présentation / base de travail à partir duquel les élèves font produire à l'écrit et interagir.

La plateforme est totalement sécurisée, l'enseignant doit créer sa classe et y enregistrer chaque élève. Les élèves se connectent ensuite sur la classe en indiquant leur mot de passe. L'enseignant est notifié par mail à chaque message créé.

A noter : il y a une fonction « export » qui permet de récupérer sous word tous les posts et les commentaires.

Interface élève

Exemple de mise en œuvre en 3ème euro

J'ai créé un whodunit inspiré d'Agatha Christie dans lequel chaque élève incarne un personnage de l'histoire, dispose de sa biographie, de son lien avec la victime, de son alibi et d'informations à distiller au compte-goutte sur le crime.

Au fur et à mesure de la progression de la séquence, des indices sont trouvés, les affaires personnelles des personnages révèlent des informations capitales et toutes les cartes sont dévoilées. J'ai bâti le scénario afin que chaque personnage ait un mobile de crime afin que le suspens perdure.

J'ai introduit twiducate au moment où chaque élève devait faire part par écrit de ses conclusions quant à l'identité du meurtrier et le mobile du crime. L'intérêt de twiducate par rapport à un support classique est que cela leur permet de commenter à chaud les productions de leurs camarades (dire s'ils sont d'accord avec leurs conclusions, expliquer les raisons pour lesquelles ils ne le seraient pas, se défendre s'ils sont accusés du meurtre...)

A noter : la fonction « feedback » permet de pointer chaque post dans un message privé afin d'aider l'élève à s'autocorriger ou l'encourager à approfondir son analyse.

Lors de la séance twiducate, ils se sont vraiment pris au jeu, s'indignant de lire des messages les accusant, utilisant les commentaires pour expliquer ce qui n'allait pas dans le raisonnement qui les accablaient... Les échanges ont été très riches.

Autres pistes d'exploitation:

- * Séquence sur les suggestions : Un article type "agony aunt" est punaisé et les élèves réagissent en formulant des suggestions et complètent les réponses des camarades.
- * Cet outil est également utile pour récupérer d'un clic toutes les productions des élèves en salle informatique.
- * Il permet un travail avec des correspondants.
- * Il rend possible le travail collaboratif encadré par l'enseignant qui peut intervenir en travail de classe où à distance

The screenshot shows a web browser window displaying a forum post on the twiducate platform. The browser's address bar shows the URL: www.twiducate.com/viewcomments.php?pid=136543139223. The twiducate navigation bar includes links for Home, Inbox, Profile, Avatar, Teachers, Students, Links, Dates, Explore, Store, and Sign Out. The current class is identified as 'euro3 - Ch'. The main content area shows a post by Clémence dated April 8, 2013, at 4:29 AM. The post text reads: "I think the murderer is Savannah Kinley because she discovered that her husband had a relationship with Vera Claythorne and that he had had a son with her so she was very angry and mad with jealousy. She knew too that Vera's son was the sole heir and inherited the hotel. She decided to kill her husband and took the will because she didn't want that anybody knew about Lord Kinley's hidden son and that he was the only heir and because she would like her daughter to be the heir so she killed her husband." Below the post, a comment by Perrine dated April 10, 2013, reads: "No, I'm not the murderer...I didn't know about my husband's affair!! Maybe YOU are the muderer!". The right sidebar contains various class-related widgets like 'Class Goals', 'Important', 'Class Books', and 'Class News'.

>>>>>I think Irene Adler is the murderer...
Several clues point to his guilt: first, she worked with the late Lord Kinley in South Africa in a company oil.
In 1991, there was a crime in this country: "Private secretary killed her employer" but the secretary escaped and she wanted the police...
What is more she is the private secretary of Lord Kinley, she had the keys of the Lord

At the bottom right of the message area, there is a 'Send Message' button.

She knew too that Vera's son was the sole heir and inherited the hotel. She decided to kill her husband and took the will because she didn't want that anybody knew about Lord Kinley's hidden son and that he was the only heir and because she would like her daughter to be the heir so she killed her husband.' The post is dated 'Apr 08, 2013 - 4:29 AM by: Clémence' and has 1 reply.
- Post 2: A user with a profile picture of a person with dark hair posts a paragraph of text. The text reads: 'I think Christine Redfern is the murderer because she said she didn't have the keys of the the office of Lord Kinley and when her locker was opened we saw she had the keys of the office. So she is a liar. And Christine Redfern works with Christopher Wren who is the accountant so she could steal money easily. And she said she needed money because she is a cook and she is not well paid. Finally the hotel had money problems.' The post is dated 'Apr 08, 2013 - 4:29 AM by: Perrine' and has 0 replies.
- Post 3: A user with a profile picture of a person with dark hair posts a paragraph of text. The text reads: 'I'm not the murderer and I hate Vera Claythorne because she had an affair with my father... Why I killed MY father with someone who I hate???' The post is dated 'Apr 08, 2013 - 4:24 AM by: Enora' and has 1 reply.

At the bottom of the forum thread, there is a link to a post that matches the text in the first screenshot: 'I think Irene Adler is the murderer... Several clues point to his guilt: first, she worked with the late Lord Kinley in South Africa in a company oil. In 1991, there was a crime in this country: "Private secretary killed her employer" but the secretary escaped and she wanted the police...'
