

AN UNEXPECTED ENCOUNTER

It was in July of last year, in Rome.

It was on one cool morning when early walks are sheer bliss.

The air was filled with the sweet scents of Italy and the ancient city lay tranquil in the morning light.

I was heading to the Colosseum, situated at a short distance from where I was staying when I noticed a herd of photographers snapping away at a short, elegant man with a bob on his head and glasses delicately perched on his nose.

I couldn't believe my eyes!!

Woody Allen was shooting his latest movie TO ROME WITH LOVE.

The film was released early this summer and seems to have had very little success.

I hope my photos of the shooting will have greater success...

Enjoy!!
